THE TAX BOOKS SHOW INCREASE

Property in County Valued at $22,775,500

This Is An Increase of More Than Quarter of Million Dollars Over Last Year—Gilmer and Morehead Carry Over Twelve Million—High Point Three Million and Railroads, Telephone and Telegraph Companies Three Million.

County Auditor Abbott has just compiled the returns sent in by the tax-listers last June and the result shows a gain in taxable values of $356,948 over the year previous, the total taxable value of Guilford property being $22,775,500. The total amount of taxes derived from this, including the polls, of which there are $163, is $203,675.98. This is divided as follows: Special school tax $20,017.54; State $45,529.40; County and school (general) $138,129.04.

The figures compiled by Mr. Abbott show by townships the number of polls, the taxable value, special school tax, state tax, county and general school tax and the total tax for all purposes. In this way it can be seen just how much money is being contributed by each township toward the state and the county and general school tax. It is interesting to note that every township in the county has special tax districts except Green.

Of the total valuation of the county Gilmer and Morehead are valued at $12,010,120 or more than half the entire wealth of the county. The railroads, telegraph and telephone companies are valued at $3,126,520, fully two thirds of which is in these townships. If divided out this would run the total to about $14,000,000, or nearly two thirds of the wealth of the county. High Point township is valued at $3,530,095.

Following are the compiled returns from each township, showing the number of polls, valuation including all taxes, special school tax, State tax, county and general school tax and total tax paid for all purposes:

County Schools.

The figures given below show the total amount paid in from the several townships for school purposes and the amount received by each township for school purposes, the apportionment being according to the pro rata of $2.40 per child. This does not include the special school tax as the amount paid in by a special tax district is kept in the district in which it was paid. Nor does the apportionment for each township include the proportionate part that would be charged to the township for general expenses, such as salaries, expenses of Board of Education, postage, and minor expenses.

Railroads, telegraph and telephone companies pay into the county school fund $5,627.74, this amount being divided pro rata among all the townships in the county, and is not included in the figures given below.

The first column below shows the amount paid in for school purposes and the second column shows the amount received by the townships for the schools as stated above:

Washington	$ 547.37	$1,005.00

SHOOTING SCRAPE SUNDAY NIGHT

Jesse Monroe Plugged in the Leg by Thomas Wakefield—Both Colored.

Some time during Sunday night Jesse Monroe was shot in the leg by Thomas Wakefield. Both parties are colored and each contends that the shooting was purely accidental. Anyway the ball struck about the knee and ranged downward, and Monroe had to be carried home to recuperate.

The shooting may have been accidental, but the police believe otherwise. While the negro was hurt Sunday night every effort was made to keep the affair a secret and only late last night did the officers "catch on." The negroes at the time of the shooting were at the home of Sally Dooley on Dilbro street but no one could be found who could throw any light on the shooting. The negroes gave no explanation as to why the gun went off at the opportune moment. Dr. Waddy was called in as soon as Monroe was gotten home and the ball taken out of his leg. Whitfield footing the bill. The police are looking into the matter.

IN HONOR OF FORMER TEACHER

Miss Florence Hunt Hostess At Brilliant Reception Last Evening In Honor of Miss Georgia Kober, of Chicago—Reception Largely Attended—Miss Kober To Give Recital At Normal Saturday.

Miss Florence Hunt, one of Greensboro's leading piano teachers, was hostess last evening at one of the most brilliant social receptions of the season, held in honor of her former teacher, Miss Georgia Kober, leading pianist in the famous Sherwood Music School, of Chicago.

The artist's rooms on the fifth floor of the Southern Life and Trust building were thrown open for the reception of guests and no pains were spared to make the occasion one of unusual pleasure and enjoyment to all present.

In the receiving line were Miss Hunt, Miss Lindsay, Miss Woodall, Mrs. Janie Foushee, Mrs. Charles Denny and Mrs. B. C. Sharpe.

The color scheme in the reception room was green and white, and in the tea room pink. Many compliments were received during the evening on the taste of those having the decorations in charge, even the refreshments harmonizing in color with the pink room in which they were served.

The music for the evening was furnished in Miss Lindsay's room by two of Miss Hunt's pupils, Miss Mary Wharton Vaughn and Miss Margaret Callum. All of Miss Hunt's pupils had some part in the reception—some at the door, some at the elevator, while others served punch in the hall, which was profusely decorated.

This afternoon there will be an interpretative reading given for the benefit of Miss Hunt's pupils, full particulars of which recital will appear tomorrow morning.

Miss Kober has consented to give a recital in the auditorium of the Normal College on Saturday evening, December 2. This recital will be under the auspices of the senior class of the Normal College.

The Glee Club of Trinity College appeared before a large audience last evening at the G. F. College, and were accorded an enthusiastic welcome.

The gentlemen composing this aggregation, some 24 in number, have been well trained under the direction of Prof. W. H. Overton, and are on a week's tour to different points in the State. The concert which they are giving is a very delightful one, embracing those songs which are peculiarly adapted to the life of the college pupil, no attempt being made to render strictly classical songs along artistic lines, but good music nevertheless, and plenty of laughter and fun.

The quartet music was good, and the violin playing, by Mr. Alderman, and the recitation, by Mr. Hurley, deserve especial mention.

Information Wanted.

Dr. T. M. Jones in an address at the Centennial of North Carolina Methodism held in Raleigh in 1878 says that in the year 1864 a large amount of lumber was purchased in Johnston county to be used in rebuilding the college. A considerable portion of this lumber, he says, was made up into doors, sash, window frames, etc., and the whole was taken by the Federal soldiers.

If any one can furnish any information in regard to this material, and the fact that it was taken by the Federal soldiers, please write to W. M. Curtis, Greensboro, N. C., and the kindness will be greatly appreciated.

WOMAN NOW MANNISH AND MAN EFFEMINATE

Dr. Sargent, Harvard's Noted Authority, Points Out Changes in Physical Characteristics.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 28.—That the physical type of American womanhood has undergone a tremendous change in the last twenty years and is approaching that of the opposite sex is the belief of Dr. Dudley Allen Sargent, director of gymnastics at Harvard University, and that man is going womanward in another statement he makes.

"Twenty years ago," says Dr. Sargent, "woman's ultra feminine characteristics—small waist, large hips, small feet, &c.—were overdeveloped and she was the very antithesis of man in physical proportions."

"Today her physique has become revolutionized and already approximates that of the other sex."

The doctor has a composite statue, made in accordance with actual measurements of more than 10,000 women prior to the year 1890. He says the typical woman today has bigger feet, smaller hips, rounder and larger waist, broader shoulders and a thicker neck. In some cases her chest is a great deal better developed than man's.

"The modification of the corset is one reason for the change in woman's physique," he says. "Another reason is that within the past 20 years women have done a great deal more in the way of athletics than they did formerly. The sports which one naturally takes to have the inevitable result of making those who indulge in them more like men."

Women on every side doing the work of men is another reason for this masculine tendency, effecting a development not only physical but also mental.

"This approximation of man's physique is from an anthropological point of view a bad thing. It is to be hoped that men and women do not grow to be more alike than they are today. The same may be said of men. From the overdeveloped Sandow man has changed to the effeminate and the foppish being."

"The danger of women becoming too mannish is imminent."

"The pendulum is swinging from one extreme to the other is bound to hit at some time upon the happy medium, the point of ideal development. The present time we should be most likely to find woman's physical development at its highest stage. Care must be taken not to let the pendulum swing too far the other way."

DEATH IN COUNTRY.

Mrs. Hannah Osborne Passes Away At Age of Ninety Four Years.

Mrs. Hannah Osborne, generally known in her community as "Aunt Hannah," died Saturday afternoon at 6 o'clock at her home near Center church. She was 94 years of age and had been in failing health for some time, but last week seemed nearer than usual.

The funeral will be held from Center church, where the deceased had been a faithful member for years, this morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Thos. C. Hodgins. The interment will follow in the family plot.

Mrs. Osborne was the widow of Obed Osborne. She was widely known throughout that section of the county and no one had more friends than "Aunt Hannah." She is survived by four children, Messrs. Elwin and Marion and Miss Bessie Osborne, who live at the family homeplace, and Mr. B. L. Osborne, of High Falls. She was a daughter of Jeremiah and Susanah Reynolds.

Mr. P. D. Kerner returned yesterday from Kernersville where on Sunday he attended the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. Margaret Susan Dicks, of Walkertown, who died on Saturday after a short illness of pneumonia. Mrs. Dicks' death is particularly sad following so closely the death of her husband, Dr. Wm. P. Dicks, which occurred in the early spring. Mrs. Dicks was a lifelong member of Love's M. E. church where interment was made. She is survived by five children, two of whom reside in the west, and six grand children.

DUTIES OF THE COMMISSIONERS

Business of Administration Distributed.

Charter Committee of Chamber of Commerce Met Yesterday Afternoon and Outlined the Work of the Three Commissioners As Per the Proposed Charter—Charter Will Be Put In Printed Form At Once.

The charter committee of the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday afternoon and outlined the duties of the three commissioners under the proposed commission form of government. It will be remembered that the committee at first recommended four commissioners and outlined the duties of each, but the mass meeting decided that three would be sufficient. Accordingly the duties of the fourth commissioner had to be distributed among three and the committee was empowered to designate the duties of each of the three offices.

The mayor will be known as the commissioner of accounts and finances and will act as the purchasing agent of the city. He will be chief executive officer and will have general oversight over the accounts of the city and over all work not specially designated to the other commissioners.

There will be a commissioner of public works. This officer will have charge of the water works, streets, etc.

The other officer will be the commissioner of public safety and will have charge of the police, health and fire departments and general supervision over the inspection department of the city.

The committee has about completed the draft of the charter and the draft will be printed in pamphlet form at once for distribution, the city having ordered that 1,000 copies be printed.

JAMES SMITH FOR REVISION

Former New Jersey Senator Says It Is Duty of Democrats.

Washington, Nov. 28.—The tariff continues to be the political question discussed by both parties, James Smith, Jr., of New Jersey, a former United States Senator and again a candidate, who passed through Washington on his way South, expressed his opinion that revision of the tariff is the most solemn duty of the Democratic party.

"The tariff should receive early attention," he said earnestly. "The present law is generally considered as evidence of a party's breach of faith. A revision downward is expected, especially with reference to the necessities of life. To my mind that is the most solemn duty of the Democratic party at the moment. But its duty is two-fold—to the people and to the business interests of the country. That both may well be served announcement should presently be made of the Congressional plans in this regard. Business halts while tariffs are being made. In the interest, then, of the common welfare, the Democratic program should include a fixed purpose to proceed without delay to a downward revision of the tariff where needed and a resolute and speedy accomplishment of that purpose."

MAKE LIFE WORTH LIVING

Says Elder Cunningham.

When pure healthy blood courses through every vein and artery of the body, the organs are in a healthy condition, and a strenuous active life is a pleasure to man or woman.

But if the blood is impure and sluggish, the appetite poor, digestion weak and vitality not up to the standard, life is a burden; then you need Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic, without oil. Such evidence as comes from Henry Cunningham, elder of the Baptist Church, Kinston, N. C., should be convincing. He says: "I was run-down and weak from general debility, and suffered from vertigo. I took Vinol with the most gratifying results. I gained in health and strength and now feel unusually well."

Elder Cunningham's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of cods' livers, aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron contained in Vinol.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. Pariss-Klutzn Drug Co., Greensboro, N. C.

AN UNSELFISH WOMAN

Miss Martha Berry and Her Work for the South.

American Magazine.

A deer-eyed, dirty-faced cracker child—a wild young thing—peeped in the open cabin door on a Sabbath morning where the Sunday Lady sat reading in the den.

Presently the Sunday Lady looked up and observed the infant young eyes fixed on her. The shy young thing was coaxed into the cabin and soon others, even shyer, came to be told of a wonderful child in a manger. So began one of the most significant educational movements in the country. For months it was only a Sunday school in the cabin in the great grove of a proud old ancestral home, but it was there that Martha Berry found her lifework.

On 83 acres of her own land in January, 1902, she began the Berry School. There were five boys then, with two small buildings valued at about $3,000.

Today the Berry School has 2,000 acres of land, a dozen or more modern buildings, a magnificent dairy, with scores of fine cows, mules, laundry, wood working and blacksmith shops, all the equipment of a big model farm, for this is a place where hands and brains are linked together. The property is easily worth $200,000, and the school has $100,000 endowment. There are 27 officers and instructors. Each student—their range in age from 15 to 28 years—pays $60 a year, and there is a deficit of $60 on each one, which must be made up by contributions. The boys work two hours a day, and everything from making beds to cultivating the farm is done by the student body. Sixty boys worked last summer to pay expenses for the coming year.

Sixteen boys graduated last year. Five are in mountain school work; four are working their way through college; two are on the farm, and three are in other occupations.

Not far from the great plant of the industrial institution she started her girls' school in a log house, built by the boys in November, 1909. There were five girls at first; now there are 30, and a new building is going up to accommodate others. The eagerness with which these timid, awkward mountain lasses came is an inspiration; the capacity they instantly displayed is Miss Berry's reward. They are taught, above all things else, to be home-makers. Cooking, sewing, nursing, gardening, laundering, dairying, all the simple arts of house-keeping are linked with thorough educational training. Within a brief year the result is almost beyond belief. The sordid, unkempt home life of the mountain home is vanishing, under the magic of these trained girls. Miss Berry has found full-orbed realization of her great vision.

Not Sorry for Blunder.

"If my friend hadn't blundered in thinking I was a doomed victim of consumption, I might not be alive now," writes D. T. Sanders, of Harrodsburg, Ky., "but for years they saw every attempt to cure a lung-racking cough fail. At last I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. The effect was wonderful. It soon stopped the cough and I am now in better health than I have had for years. This wonderful life-saver is an unrivaled remedy for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, hemorrhages, whooping cough or weak lungs. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Pariss-Klutzn Drug Co."

Opposed to a Change.

"I'm afraid," said the lawyer, "we cannot get justice in this court. I shall move for a change of venue."
"For heaven's sake," cried the State legislator, who was to undergo trial, "if you really think that, let's let well enough alone."—Chicago News.

Mr. Otto Paul, Milwaukee, Wis., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar is still more than the best. He writes us, 'All those that bought it think it is the best for coughs and colds they ever had and I think it is still more than the best. Our baby had a bad cold and it cured him in one day. Please accept thanks.' Howard Gardner."

An Ideal Fiction.

"I want my son to be a polished man of the world, prepossessing in appearance, tactful and skilled in the accomplishments of a gentleman."
"I'm afraid you have been reading novels. Your description tallies exactly with the description of the hero of the latest thief story."—Washington Star.

For More Than Three Decades

OLD ENGLISH BOXERS.

Hired to Prevent Trouble at George IV's Coronation.

Boxing was introduced into England in the earlier part of the eighteenth century. Its first practitioner being John Broughton, who kept a booth for exhibitions in Tottenham Court road, London, and rules were drawn up Aug. 10, 1743. The vogue was due to the decline of sword combat exhibitions in the reign of George I. Broughton himself was the first who stood in the position of champion, a distinction which he held for eighteen years, but eventually he was knocked out by a butcher named Slack. Broughton was a great pet of the Duke of Cumberland, who took the pugilist with him to Berlin, when he declared himself ready to take on the entire regiment of grenadier guards there "if he were only allowed a breakfast between each two battles."

The English fighter Tom Cribb once secured a very remarkable engagement. Just before the coronation of George IV, certain sympathizers with Queen Caroline bragged that on the day of the ceremonial they would make matters warm in the neighborhood of Westminster abbey, and this reached the ears of the earl marshal. That high functionary sought an interview with the pugilist "Gentleman" Jackson, who taught Lord Byron to box.

Jackson got together some two dozen bruisers. Besides Cribb, the band included John Gully, in turn fighting man, racing man, colliery proprietor and member of parliament. They were attired as king's pages and gathered about the abbey doors. There was no trouble.—Chicago News.

Hexamethylenetetramine.

Is the name of a German chemical, one of the many valuable ingredients of Foley's Kidney Remedy. Hexamethylenetetramine is recognized by medical text books and authorities as a uric acid solvent and anti-septic for the urine. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy promptly at the first sign of kidney trouble and avoid a serious malady. Howard Gardner.

A Misapprehension.

The young man leading a dog by a string lounged up to the ticket office of a railway station and inquired: "Must I—aw—take a ticket for a puppy?"
"No; you can travel as an ordinary passenger," was the reply.—Suburban Life.

A Household Medicine.

To be really valuable must show equally good results from each member of the family using it. Foley's Honey and Tar does just this. Whether for children or grown persons Foley's Honey and Tar is best and safest for all coughs and colds. Howard Gardner.

No Wonder She Pouted.

"I am disappointed," pouted the young lady with the pink parasol.
"Why so?" asked the anxious young man, looking over his nose pinchers.
"Why, I expected when I came down here to see some aeroplanes, and all I've seen is a monoplane and a biplane."—Boston Herald.

quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. Has automatic locking flame spreader which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back so the wick can be quickly cleaned.

It has a damper top and a cool handle. Indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap does not need to be screwed down; it is put in like a cork in a bottle, and is attached to the font by a chain, and cannot get lost.

The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged, because of a new device in construction, and consequently, it can always be easily unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

UNDERTAKING OUR SPECIALTY
DAY 702. PHONES NIGHT 1442

STRATEGY

By DONALD CHAMBERLIN

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"I want one of you men for a special service," said the sergeant, coming into the station excitedly. "There's been a robbery in the city in which a storekeeper was shot dead. The robber carried a bundle under his arm and after spending a few minutes in the back of the store came out in a policeman's uniform. Later some people went into the store, found the safe robbed of $2,000 and the storekeeper dead. They saw the robber go in and were puzzled to see him come out as one of us. He's been seen out on the Blimerton road."

The sergeant stopped a moment for breath, then, turning to me, said:

"Henshaw, mount and ride out on Baker street till you come to the fountain, leave your horse in the stable near by, walk back by the Blimerton road and see if you can't meet him. Pretend you don't know him and take him by strategy. If he's gone for in the regular way he'll dodge us. You can do it."

I obeyed my order, which was given me because I had done some neat jobs in just such fashion and had been told by the sergeant that he'd rather have me go for a man alone than twenty others together. Sometimes I worked in plain clothes, but in this case I saw like a flash that I could do much better in uniform. I hadn't been on the Blimerton road ten minutes before I saw a cop some distance away walking toward me. He was coming along with the deliberate tread of a roundsman on his beat and so like the real thing that I dared not hope he was the man I was after.

But I noticed as soon as he caught sight of me he began to swing his club as we often do when patrolling. It gave him away, since it indicated a bit of nervousness on seeing a policeman. I walked on, pretending to see something interesting to my right, stopped, peered at the imaginary object for a few minutes, as though I had struck something that might require a policeman's attention, then went on.

When I and my man met I stopped and asked carelessly if he had passed any one of the force. He was perfectly cool, but I knew well he was the man wanted. He told me he had met two roundsmen back a short distance going rapidly, as though something was in the wind; that he had asked if they wished his services and they had told him to stick to his beat and keep his eyes open, but that if he met one of the force he should send him after them.

"You're very foxy," I said in my mind, "but I'm out gunning myself for some one more stupid than I."

"I think I know what they're after," I said to the man. "There's been a murder and robbery committed in the city. I think they're looking for the person that did it. We get no thanks for helping those on a scout, and I'm not going after them. But I wonder why they told you to keep a lookout here. This is no place to expect that party."

"Don't know, but I must be getting on, Morrin."

But he dare not trust me with his back turned toward me. He went half sidling and half backing for a few yards, keeping me in sight, and I believed he had a revolver concealed in his right sleeve.

"What do you say," I said to him, "to going into the saloon on the corner for a glass?"

He didn't know just what to do. The advantages might be in the direction of the saloon and they might not. What he wanted was to shake me, and he was not successful. Finally, seeing that to refuse he must walk on with his back to me, rather than give me such an advantage, he said he'd go to the saloon, though he pretended he feared to be reported.

We walked across the road side by side and up the street to the saloon. At the door I gave way for him to enter first, but he was not to be outdone in politeness, refusing point blank to expose his back, so I, who felt a reasonable certainty that I was in no danger from him, passed in first.

We stood up at the bar. I asked my brother policeman what he would have and gave the order. We faced a large mirror and could both see our faces in it. I noticed that my man never took his eye from my reflection for a moment. Whether he suspected me or not I didn't know, but I did know that he realized that he was losing precious moments. The longer I kept him not only the more likelihood was there that he would be taken, but the more nervous he became.

I knew that there would be one moment when he would be obliged to take his eyes off my reflection; that was when he poured out his liquor. He needed a bracer or I believe he would have made some excuse to decline to drink. I noticed when he took up the bottle his hand trembled. Not till the fluid began to go from the bottle to the glass did he lower his eye, and then only for two or three seconds. But they were all I wanted. I clutched his right arm and shook it violently. His weapon dropped to the floor, and I planted my foot on it. Then I put both arms around him and held him in a bear hug.

The rest was easy. I told the barkeeper to telephone for the police, but before they came I had released my hold and drawn my club. By this time my man had given up and submitted to the bracelets.

Color of Hair Said to Indicate a Person's Temperament.

Many people believe that blonde, or light hair denotes affection and dark hair constancy. A person without hair is not devoid of character; far from it. The disposition of the average bald-headed man is to show such solicitude for the welfare of others, that he neglects himself. A germ causes baldness. The Duke interests have bought Charlotte's traction and lighting plant. Will Greensboro's go next?

Norman E. Mack, the national Democratic chairman, is "foxy." He saw the dangers of a "conference" and persuaded the promoters to turn it into a "celebration." Just now men of Mack's judgment and foresight are much needed in Democratic councils.

Baltimore is just bent on having a Democratic gathering of some sort. The preliminaries were arranged Saturday. "Conference" seemed not exactly the proper thing, so it was decided to have a banquet. But the gentlemen who are arranging this business will make a mistake if they conclude that the public will not expect politicians to live up even to their post prandial promises.

President Taft is a very lucky man. He usually manages to escape criticism, formal criticism at least, for his sins of omission and commission. He mortally offended the old line Republicans of this State by appointing a Democrat a Federal judge, but never a line of dissatisfaction with his course could there be gotten through the State convention when it assembled here last August. Similarly at Saturday's session of the Lakes-to-Gulf Deep Waterways Convention at St. Louis a resolution containing an attack on the President charging a betrayal after a promise of friendliness to the project was defeated. Mr. Taft is known to be very sensitive to criticism. There can be no fault found with the measures taken by his friends to protect him from it.

Women's clubs are superior to men's clubs, thinks Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked, pastor of the Fifth Avenue Baptist church, of New York City. A man's club is for personal ease, good cooking and good company," he said in a sermon Sunday. "The women's clubs of this country, so striking a feature in our national life, are organized for work. It may be for education or propaganda, or charity, or philanthropy. They have not always lived up to their professions, a peculiarity which they share with churches, but at least they have in view something more than a comfortable chair and a well-looked chop. Our churches are generally manned by women. There is not a church in existence today which would be in existence but for the love and yearnings of a woman's heart." Women are more unselfish (and that means more religious) than men. Men give to charitable and philanthropic objects, but they are not as much disposed to undergo personal sacrifice and discomfort for those objects as are their sisters. Dr. Aked has simply done the gentler sex common justice in pointing out publicly their greater unselfishness as compared with men.

The Columbia (S. C.) News Publishing Company, which will launch a new morning daily in that city, has been authorized to increase its capital stock from $50,000 to $200,000. Nine trustees will have a twenty-year voting trust upon the stock. The trustees are Joseph Norwood, of Columbia, and J. E. Norwood, of Newberry; Thomas Wilson, of Sumter; W. W. Barre, of Lexington; Lester Webb, E. O. Black and George R. Koester, of Columbia; Frank Watkins, of Anderson, and James Moss, of Calhoun.

The new paper is, of course, launched because of enmity to the State. As the State is a conscientious, high-minded paper and an excellent advertisement both for the city of Columbia and the State of South Carolina there is hardly an excuse for starting a new paper out of dislike for it. The next most interesting comment suggested by the news item mentioned is the fact that the promoters of the new paper are shown by the figures mentioned to be in earnest. Lots of people don't know it, but newspaper promoters who want their paper to stick and at the same time want it to carry a full news service have got to reach six figures in their outlay. It is folly to proceed on the theory that a few thousand dollars will do the work. It won't.

TRAINS NOW GO INTO THE HEART OF NEW YORK

Roll Under the Hudson Through the Pennsylvania Tubes.

New York, Nov. 28.—Rail transportation from the Southeast direct to the heart of New York city became a fact yesterday, when the Southern Railway United States fast mail, handling sleepers from New Orleans and Birmingham, via Atlanta, rolled into the magnificent New York passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad through the tunnels under the Hudson river, which were opened for traffic at midnight.

Travel from New York direct to the South began when the Southbound United States fast mail left ten minutes after midnight, being the first through train to leave the station. During the day the other five through trains of the Southern to and from the South, "The New York, Atlanta and New Orleans limited," "The Birmingham Special," operated between Birmingham and New York via Atlanta, "The Southern's Southeastern limited" between Jacksonville and New York, and also handling sleepers between New York and Aiken and Augusta, "The Memphis Special," between Memphis and New York via Chattanooga, Bristol and Lynchburg, and "The New York, Chattanooga and New Orleans limited" made their first arrivals at and departures from the new station.

The new passenger station covers 28 acres. Its location is the space enclosed by Seventh and Eighth avenues and Thirty-first and Thirty-third streets.

A Frenchman standing beneath the dome of the splendid waiting room sobbed aloud because such a "beautiful affair was 'just a railway station' while friends explained to him that in this commercial country commerce is idealized in art and beauty, which qualities are not saved up for art galleries and museums.

At night when the more than twenty-two thousand lights were turned on, every room was flooded with a white radiance, reflected by the walls of the building, making it appear as if a bright sunlight was coming through the windows and doors. The throngs of spectators continued to fill the grand concourse and waiting rooms, and even those pushing through, clutching tickets and valises, waited to take their trains at the very last moment.

Despite the enormous undertaking of inaugurating a full train service in and out of the station, with its underground tracks, every train from 12:02 a. m. yesterday, the first to pull out, until 4:04 in the afternoon departed on time. The 4:04 train, a New York and Philadelphia express, was seven minutes late in leaving, but from that time on practically all trains left on the minute.

Incoming trains were for the most part a few minutes late. This was because in the rush of traffic the passenger corps was taxed to the utmost. However, no trains were stopped in the tunnels and no trouble was experienced with any of the electrical equipment.

A large number of Pennsylvania Rail-

Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

road officials from the general offices in Philadelphia, including most of the vice presidents, were at the station early in the day to see if things were running smoothly.

There were crowds all day in front of the two tablets at the main entrance on Seventh avenue, reading the inscriptions placed there by the railroad's directors.

Others stood before the statue of Alexander J. Cassatt, the former President of the railroad, who conceived the great undertaking of building into Manhattan, but did not live to realize the completion of it. The mural paintings on the walls near the ceiling of the central concourse also proved an attraction. They are the work of Jules Guerin.

At no time, even when the building contained the largest throng, did it seem overcrowded, for the reason that it covers such a tremendous area.

THE MASONIC HOME.

Committee Meets Today in Charlotte to Decide on Plans—The Deeds Made Yesterday.

The building committee of the Masonic and Eastern Star Home, composed of Messrs. L. M. Clymer, R. N. Hackett and F. M. Winchester, will meet in Charlotte today to decide on the plans for the institution. A number of sketches have been submitted by architects. As soon as the plans are decided on bids will be called for and it is hoped to begin work at an early date.

The home will be located just west of Lindley park on a tract of 25 acres, the deed transferring the property to the trustees having been signed yesterday. The Public Service Company has promised to have the car line extended to the institution before it is completed.

The building committee is now ready to receive the bonus of $5,000 given by the Greensboro Masons to secure the location of the institution in Greensboro. The buildings that will be erected at first will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000 and will be so arranged that additions can be made at any time.

DR. WOOD WILL DISCUSS PELLAGRA

To Make Address Thursday Before County Medical Society—An Eminent Authority on the Disease—Some Facts Regarding Fight Against Disease by Dr. W. S. Rankin.

The people of Greensboro and Guilford county are fortunate in having an opportunity to hear a discussion on pellagra, under the auspices of the Guilford County Medical Association, which meets on December 1, at High Point, in which the principal address will be made by Dr. Edward J. Wood, of Wilmington, N. C. Dr. Wood was one of the first scientists in the United States to recognize pellagra, and to publicly call attention to its far-reaching importance. As late as 1902 there were no authentic cases of this disease of American origin, in the literature. Dr. Wood's work on pellagra began in 1906, and his contributions of his knowledge of this disease are very valuable.

The importance of pellagra lies in the fact, that as yet its origin, or cause, is unknown, and that it is responsible for the death of between five hundred and a thousand people in this state every year. The death rates per hundred thousand of the population of the registration area of the United States, comprising 55 per cent. or forty eight million people, for typhoid fever, measles, malarial, scarlet fever, diphtheria and whooping cough are 22, 10.2, 2.5, 14, 19, and 11 respectively. The death rate in North Carolina for pellagra is somewhere between twenty seven and fifty per hundred thousand. This wide margin is due to the fact that because the disease is new many cases are dying unrecognized. Its death rate in this State practically exceeds that of typhoid fever.

Grave as the situation is at present, the real need for thoughtful consideration of the disease, as a menace to public health, is the possibility of its increasing. That this may happen is shown by carefully collected statistics on the disease in those European countries where it has long been recognized.

For example, in 1879 the number of cases in Italy was 97,855. About this time in Venetia among 10,000 deaths 500 were due to pellagra. Since 1881 the number has declined materially, supposedly owing to the strenuous efforts on the part of the government in the more careful inspection of Indian corn and in the improvement of the general hygienic conditions. Next to Venetia stands Lombardy, with 300 deaths, then Emilia, with 200 deaths. Piedmont, Umbria, and Tuscany attributes over 5 per cent of all deaths to pellagra. Neusser asserted that in 1886 in Venice, with a population of 36,588 natives, there were 1,086 cases of pellagra.

In Roumania in 1885 there were 10,626 cases; in 1886, 19,797 cases out of a population of 5,300,000. In 1892 there were 4,500 cases, in 1898, 21,272 cases. Triller says that in 1906 in Roumania there were 30,000 pellagrins.

All public spirited citizens should take an active interest in the public health, for sooner or later indifference to this fundamental question may cost you dearly. No one should fail to hear Dr. Wood.

Secretary of N. C. State Board Health.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC.

We have occupied our present store ever since we opened business in Greensboro, and not until the last few days was it possible for us to secure a long time lease on the building so that we could expand.

Now that we have secured the store,
we feel that we can go ahead and make the necessary changes at once in order to meet the requirements of our large and growing business.

We have the utmost confidence in Greensboro's growth and we are going to make our store the most complete music store to be found in any city.

As soon as we can make room, we are going to put in a complete line of sheet music and small musical merchandise; in fact, we are going to carry everything from a "Jews Harp" to a piano.

This has been a growing demand on us for some time and we feel that Greensboro should have such a store.
We propose to carry everything in stock to assist the music teachers and the musical people in general.

Now to begin with, we are going to clean house by offering our entire stock of fine pianos and organs at prices that will insure quick removal.

This must be done first, as the front of our store is going to be torn away at once and changed in many ways to make room for the department.

We have a very large stock of pianos and organs and right on top of all this, here comes a solid car of fine sample pianos, which will pack our warehouses full on every floor.

We secured these pianos from the factory exhibit at Reidsville, and they must be sold.

These are all the highest grade pianos,
right from the factory and were on exhibition for a short time at Reidsville, and having secured them at a considerable reduction, we are in position to give quick buyers the benefit of the lowest prices ever known on high class pianos.

We decided the best way to clean house is to offer this stock of fine pianos at prices and terms that will insure their quick removal to the homes of customers.

NOISY STRAPHANGER IS PUT OUT OF CAR BY GIRL

Angered When He Says "Lord Made Woman, Then Sat Down and Laughed."

New York World.

A tall blond youth, on a trolley car bound from Queensboro Bridge to Flushing on Thanksgiving Eve, had two bouquets; one on his breath, the other in his hand. The youth was well dressed but far from well behaved.

Hanging to a strap and waving his floral bouquet, he sang for awhile, then recited verses, again delivered extracts from what may have been Fourth of July orations. Everybody in the car was bored or vexed by him when he turned to the subject of votes for women.

"I'm for equal franchise for women," he proclaimed, grinning idiotically at the women around him. "I say the ladies, Lord bless 'em, should vote."

"I admire and love all the ladies,"
the objectionable youth declared, growing bolder. "And if any lady in the car will give me a kiss, I will give her this bouquet."

He did not observe that a young woman in the corner of the car was very angry by this time.

"Who made woman?" he asked. "Why,
the Lord made woman and then he sat down and laughed."

The angry girl sprang to her feet; tall and lithe, with two long steps she reached the tipsy youth.

"Sat down and laughed, eh?" she replied, seizing his wrist and wrenching his hand from the strap. "You can go home and disgrace your old mother and your sisters, if you have any, but you shall not insult the women in this car."

She banged the fellow's hat over his eyes; with strength that showed training and skill she backed him to the car's rear door. The woman nearest it opened the door, the athletic girl gave the advocate of women's rights a stronger push, tripped him and he sat down on the platform—but he did not laugh.

And there he stayed. Calmly the girl closed the door; then, setting her big hat straight again and dusting her gloves' finger tips against each other,
she returned to her place.

The Green Flash of Sunset.

One of the most rarely witnessed of natural phenomena, but one that has often been discussed at scientific meetings and that always awakens wonder when seen, is the so called "green flash" occasionally visible at the moment of the disappearance of the sun behind a clear horizon. The observer's eye must be fixed upon the rim of the sun as it disappears in order to catch the phenomenon. One authority tells us that he has seen the green flash, although rarely, at the instant of the setting of a bright star. Among the explanations offered is one based upon the optical principles of complementary colors. If one looks at the sun and then closes the eyes a green disk will be perceived. A sensitive eye might be similarly affected by a brilliant star.
—New York Herald.

He Took the Blame.

"The guilty man always gives himself away," said a detective. "for, like the chap who bought the forty-cent bathing suit, he can't hide his guilty conscience. The chap I have in mind entered the water at Atlantic City in a forty-cent suit of blue flannel. As he splashed about he was joined by a girl friend. The girl flashed her bright eyes over the tumbling expanse of sea and then with a sigh of delight she said:

"Isn't the water blue today?"
"It's shameful," said the man, with a hot blush; "it's perfectly shameful how this cheap bathing flannel runs!"

How to Look Pleasant.

By her gracious and cordial manner
the wife of a western senator has long charmed those so fortunate as to attend her delightful "functions."

On one such occasion a close friend was alluding to the hostess' graceful method of making every one feel at home. "How on earth do you manage to do it?" the friend asked.

"Oh, it's easy enough," replied the woman with the engaging manner.
"As each guest approaches to shake hands I just pretend to myself that the person I am going to speak to is

A Handsome Hair Dressing But Easy to Do

STYLE B. SEE NOTE

Model and Instructions by MADAM LULU BUTLER
Principal, The Madam Butler School of Beautifying Arts, Detroit, Michigan.

Style B The hair is waved on each side of the parting and over the crown of the head. The ends of the waved hair are then brought half way up between the nape of the neck and the crown of the head and arranged in puffs or ringlets. The main body of the hair is brought below the nape of the neck and braided into two braids. These braids are crossed and brought around the head. The curls or puffs are allowed to drop across the back. This arrangement is without the use of rats, frames or false hair.

To Have Beautiful Hair Use

Newbro's Herpicide

No woman can afford to be indifferent to the appearance of her hair. A mass of nice snappy hair, becomingly dressed will add more in genuine looks than a pretty face, or an expensive gown. Don't allow the scalp to become clogged with dirt and dandruff. Don't let the Dandruff Germ destroy your hair. If your hair is uneven, dead, dull and brittle and comes out by the handful every time you draw a comb through it, the germ is there. To kill the germ and check the loss of hair should be your first anxiety. Newbro's Herpicide will do this and at the same time put the hair and scalp in a sanitary condition. Herpicide appeals to those of greatest refinement on account of its exquisite odor, its purity and cleanliness. It contains no grease and does not stain or dye. There is nothing more dependable than this remarkable scalp prophylactic. The hair responds readily to a regular and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide. Try it and see.

Send ten cents today to the Herpicide Company, Dept. L. Detroit, Michigan for a sample and a booklet telling all about the hair.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Greensboro Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Greensboro sufferers.

J. J. Foster, Mendenhall St., Burlington, N. C., says: "I suffered from kidney complaint for a long time. I had severe pains through the small of my back and was caused annoyance by irregular passage of the kidney secretions. I also noticed that the kidney secretions contained sediment, and were unnatural. While I was suffering from a severe attack of that kind, I procured a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and their use gave me permanent relief. It is with pleasure that I express my high opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills."

A WOMAN BOOSTER.

Miss Rose Gifford Officially Such for Los Angeles.

Chicago Post.
Miss Rose A. Gifford, Redlands representative at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, boasts the distinction of being the first woman to follow as a vocation lecturing and promotion work in behalf of a city or district. That she has achieved a unique success is evidenced by her long engagement by the Chamber of Commerce of Redlands and other organizations.

"It was due to Mr. Wiggins, secretary of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, that I first became interested in his work, four years ago," said Miss Gifford. "I had previously been connected with the chamber here, and when Redlands was searching for some one to represent that section Mr. Wiggins recommended me. I had had experience in lecturing, and so, naturally, with my chamber of commerce experience, I fitted into the work fairly well."

"It was real funny when the committee from Redlands returned and reported that they had engaged a woman. The members of the Chamber of Commerce scoffed and said that would never do, but I was allowed to stay on the job with the understanding that I was engaged only for a month, and if I did not make good I would be discharged."

"Well, I held the position 18 months, and then took up Imperial Valley colonization work and lecturing. I held that until recently when I was again employed to represent the Redlands district, in which I take a genuine interest."

Will Promote Beauty.

Women desiring beauty get wonderful help from Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It banishes pimples, skin eruptions, sores and boils. It makes the skin soft and velvety. It glorifies the face. Cures sore eyes, cold sores, cracked lips, chapped hands. Best for burns, scalds, fever sores, cuts, bruises, and piles. 25c. at Pariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Does a pretty woman consider it a glaring fault in a man who stares at her?

The more faults a man has, the more he believes in heredity.

Both Speedy and Effective.

This indicates the action of Foley Kidney Pills as S. Parsons, Battle Creek, Mich., illustrates: "I have been afflicted with a severe case of kidney and bladder trouble for which I found no relief until I used Foley Kidney Pills. These cured me entirely of all my ailments. I was troubled with backaches and severe shooting pains with annoying urinary irregularities. The steady use of Foley Kidney Pills rid me entirely of all my former troubles. They have my highest recommendation." Howard Gardner.

A BUSY MOTHER

Mme. Bryn's Devotion to Children Keeps Her on the Go.

New York Press.

Mme. Bryn, wife of the new Norwegian Minister to Washington, is the mother of four children. She is devoted to her family and her home, and says that consequently she has comparatively little time for clubs and crusades. "It can be easily comprehended," said she recently, "that with such a family I have small leisure for the so-called mission of women. When it comes to avocations outside the home I am always deeply gratified to find there are women who can be excellent housekeepers, companionable wives and splendid mothers and yet attend to the affairs of State as well. I have found all I can accomplish in my home, and the advance in the world of womanhood has made less impression on me than on many of my countrywomen. Still, I am interested in the woman question, especially where it relates to my own country." Mme. Bryn has traveled a great deal since her marriage, and in company with her husband has lived in many capitals, where he represented the Norwegian government.

Saves an Iowa Man's Life.

The very grave seemed to yawn before Robert Madsen, of West Burlington, Iowa, when, after seven weeks in the hospital, four of the best physicians gave him up. Then was shown the marvelous curative power of Electric Bitters. For, after eight months of frightful suffering from liver trouble and yellow jaundice, getting no help from other remedies or doctors, five bottles of this matchless medicine completely cured him. Its positively guaranteed for Stomach, Liver or Kidney troubles and never disappoints. Only 50 c. at Pariss-Klutz Drug Co.

Faint?

Have you weak heart, dizzy feelings, oppressed breathing after meals? Or do you experience pain over the heart, shortness of breath on going up-stairs and the many distressing symptoms which indicate poor circulation and bad blood? A heart tonic, blood and body-builder that has stood the test of over 40 years of cures is

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

The heart becomes regular as clock-work. The red blood corpuscles are increased in number—and the nerves in turn are well fed. The arteries are filled with good rich blood. That is why nervous debility, irritability, fainting spells, disappear and are overcome by this alternative extract of medicinal roots put up by Dr. Pierce without the use of alcohol. Ask your neighbor. Many have been cured of scrofulous conditions, ulcers, "fever-sores," white swellings, etc., by taking Dr. Pierce's Discovery. Just the refreshing and vitalizing tonic needed for excessive tissue waste, in convalescence from fevers or for run-down, anemic, thin-blooded people. Stick to this safe and sane remedy and refuse all "just as good" kinds offered by the dealer who is looking for a larger profit. Nothing will do you half as much good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

As Easy as a Slipper made flexible—made with all the stiffness taken out. It has solved the shoe problem for thousands of men to whom new shoes are simon-pure torture. The sole is solid and tough, but it bends like a moccasin. The vamp and top are of kid, soft but tough as a board.

You'll vote this shoe the most comfortable you ever slipped on. Style—all you care for. Wear—it's a Craddock, and the Craddock Shoe has a reputation in that line.

DEATH OF DR. EDWARDS, NOTED RICHMOND PHYSICIAN

He Was a Kinsman of Mrs. E. C. Watlington, of This City.

A telegram received here Sunday night by Mrs. E. C. Watlington brought news of the death of a kinsman of hers, Dr. Landon B. Edwards, a prominent physician of Richmond. Dr. Edwards died Sunday afternoon at 2:30. He was a son of the Rev. Dr. John E. Edwards, a noted Virginia minister. Misses Kate and Agnes Edwards, daughters of Dr. Landon B. Edwards, have visited Mrs. Watlington and are pleasantly remembered.

Dr. Edwards' funeral will take place this afternoon from Park Place Methodist church.

Yesterday's Times-Dispatch says of Dr. Edwards' death:

"Dr. Landon Brame Edwards, one of the best known and most eminent physicians in the city, died yesterday afternoon at 2:35 o'clock at his residence, 106 West Grace street. Dr. Edwards had been in poor health for a number of years. Recently he had become worse, and his death yesterday was not unexpected. He was sixty five years of age.

"He was born in Prince Edward county, Sept. 20, 1845. He received his education in private schools, the Lynchburg Military College and Randolph-Macon College. His medical education was obtained from the Medical College of Virginia, the University of Virginia, and the University of the City of New York. From the last named place he took his degree in 1867.

"Dr. Edwards was one of the few surviving charter members of the Medical Society of Virginia, of which he was secretary for a number of years.

"He was one of the founders of the University College of Medicine, and was also the founder of the Virginia Medical Monthly Journal, now the Semi-Monthly. He continued the publication up to the time of his death, having associated with him his son, Dr. Charles M. Edwards. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? MAKE YOUR MONEY WORK

If you have worked to earn your money, make it work for you. Deposit a portion of your income with this bank where it will be safeguarded by large capital, resources and careful management. Then remember that this bank pays 4 per cent. per annum, compounded four times a year, so that your original deposit earns interest and the interest itself begins to earn interest as soon as it is credited. Please come in and talk over the matter of depositing your money with this bank.

Personal and household checking accounts are cordially invited.
